

Merrimack College

Merrimack ScholarWorks

Librarian Publications

McQuade Library

2018

Pivot, and Pivot Again: Ever-Nimble Library Leadership

Kathryn Geoffrion Scannell

Merrimack College, kgeoffrionscannell@gmail.com

Lyena Chavez

Merrimack College, chavezl@merrimack.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.merrimack.edu/lib_pub

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Repository Citation

Geoffrion Scannell, K., & Chavez, L. (2018). Pivot, and Pivot Again: Ever-Nimble Library Leadership. Failing Forward: Experimentation and Creativity in Libraries. ACRL New England Chapter Annual Conference
Available at: https://scholarworks.merrimack.edu/lib_pub/6

This Poster Session is brought to you for free and open access by the McQuade Library at Merrimack ScholarWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Librarian Publications by an authorized administrator of Merrimack ScholarWorks. For more information, please contact scholarworks@merrimack.edu.

PIVOT POINTS NEW DIRECTIONS

Space Changes
New Programs
New Administrators
Student Changes

Research Center, "To Go" Workshops
STEM Smart Teachers MakerSpace
New Partnerships, New Modes (TL/DR)
"Mindful McQuade", Grad Student Space

-  Keep a compost pile of ideas.
-  Know your audience.
-  Fail early and often.

Some of the best opportunities for your library may come as the result of circumstances that you cannot plan for or predict.

Library leadership is full of surprises and messes -- on the route to successes. Here are examples of "pivoting" in response to space re-purposing, evolving curricula, and unexpected opportunities for collaboration.