FROM THE DIRECTOR'S DESK

Welcome Back!

We're excited to inaugurate the new academic year with a new way of finding what you need: MACKsearch. You'll also find some changes in the building, with the beautiful new Compass study space and offices opening on the third floor. The library continues to be a one-stop destination for your academic support needs, and now you can get a smoothie here, too!

Keep reading for info on some new resources, and check our website, blogs, SmugMug, Facebook, Twitter and Pinterest as you're surfing. Here's to a great semester!

Merrimack ScholarWorks is Growing!

Merrimack ScholarWorks

Merrimack ScholarWorks is expanding in both readership and content!

In September, Merrimack ScholarWorks ranked as one of the most popular institutions in the Higher Education and Teaching Commons in the Digital Commons Network! With over 100 institutions around the world contributing to this commons, coming out on top is a great stride for our growing institutional repository.

Popular Institutions

- SIT Graduate Institute/SIT Study Abroad
- Utah State University
- Kennesaw State University
- University of Connecticut
- Merrimack College
- Lewis and Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling
- University of Tennessee, Knoxville
- Rhode Island College
- Dublin Institute of Technology

Since July, we have added over fifty publications. This influx of new work also allowed us to create a new School of Science & Engineering collection for faculty publications from the Biology, Health Science, Computer Science, and Physics departments. We also added a new collection for student work to house Master of Education capstone projects.

Access Services Welcomes New Student Workers

Access Services started the academic year off by welcoming some new students to its dynamic, engaging student worker staff. The new student workers are Benjamin Burke, Nicholas DeFilippis, Jacqueline Nigro, Savannah Shairs, and Agneris Vazquez.

On September 9th, Access Services student workers gathered at McQuade Library to participate in an orientation for some team building, training, and a few laughs.

Supervisors Chris Condon, Joseph St. Germain, and Linda Wilkins emphasized how Access Services student workers support the library and its patrons in countless ways by staffing the Help Desk, keeping items organized, retrieving materials, and referring questions to appropriate departments.

Returning student workers shared their experiences with new hires and all were introduced to a new Blackboard classroom created by Joseph St. Germain that encourages further team building and increased collaboration among the student worker staff to keep the department focused on providing McQuade Library patrons with friendly, professional, and outstanding customer service.

The entire department is looking forward to working with the college's students, faculty, and staff this year to continue to facilitate access to McQuade's physical and electronic resources by providing friendly, professional service to all.

We've come a long way in the last couple of months, but we're not stopping here! These recent accomplishments show that the more we add, the more readers we get- so make a name for yourself by adding your work to Merrimack ScholarWorks today!

If you would like to contribute your work to Merrimack ScholarWorks, please contact the repository administrator, Michaela Keating: scholarworks@merrimack.edu

Scan and Learn: QR Code Walking Tour a Success!

During this year's Class of 2018 Orientation all first year students traveled to McQuade Library for a multimedia QR Code Walking Tour adventure.

Students were issued earbuds and used their personal devices (iPads and smartphones) to scan QR codes throughout the building and watch 10 videos to learn about the amazing academic resources available at McQuade. Students visited the Media Center, Help Desk, MACKcard office, IT area, ERC, Research Center, Writing Center, Math Center, Center for Academic Enrichment, and First Year Counselor's office. Click on links to view these entertaining and informative videos!

Sara Quagliaroli, First Year Academic Counselor, and Lyena Chavez, Head of Instruction and Outreach, partnered to create this year's tour. Kudos to Kevin Salemme for his editing expertise and to all McQuade staff members and students who participated in this project to make it a success! Special thanks to Allison Gill, Associate Dean of Campus Life/Dean of First Year Students and Alison Pukala, Director of Student Involvement, for supplying both earbuds and wonderful student team leaders to help with this tour.

We encourage Class of 2018 students to take advantage of McQuade's many outstanding resources and services that will enable them to succeed during their first year and beyond.

MACKsearch

McQuade Library is excited to introduce MACKsearch, a tool that allows you to search the majority of the library's physical and electronic resources simultaneously.

Rather than having to check the library's online catalog for books and DVDs and the library's databases for articles and other electronic content, MACKsearch brings you results from nearly all of these unique tools in one easy to use interface.

In other words, you can think of MACKsearch as a customized version of Google Scholar that makes finding the library resources you want and need as easy as ever.

To learn more about MACKsearch, visit our LibGuide or contact a librarian.
